

Engagement Volunteer Officer

The Engagement Volunteer Officer shall sit on the Union's Executive Council, alongside the Sabbatical Officers, representing and championing the rights and views of all 17,000+ students at the University of Stirling.

The University of Stirling Student Union Engagement Volunteer Officer is a fixed-term voluntary elected role, operating within the Education Zone. The Volunteer Officer roles are designed to be flexible and fit around your studies, with all core responsibilities taking no more than 10 hours a month.

All newly elected Volunteer Officers will immediately begin their roles following the Autumn Election and will be supported with induction and training throughout.

If you have any questions regarding this, please email Natalie Hay, Democracy & Representation Coordinator, natalie.hay@stir.ac.uk.

Am I eligible to stand for Engagement Volunteer Officer?

For the Volunteer Officer roles, you need to be a matriculated University of Stirling student at the time of the Union Elections, and until June 2024 at least.

What does the Engagement Volunteer Officer role involve?

- To work directly with the Vice President Education and Faculty Officers to continually promote and develop the academic representative network.
- To work with the relevant Sabbatical Officers and the student body to create a climate of active engagement through consultation with students in order to secure educational change.
- To plan, develop and implement education-related campaigns, events and materials to better the students' experience of students at Stirling.
- Deliver change projects and campaigns based on your manifesto.
- Ensure the implementation of, and adherence to, an effective Equality, Diversity and Inclusion policy.
- Attend all appropriate training events and conferences to ensure familiarity with their role and current issues affecting students.
